

Hello everyone! This year our lesson schedule looks a little bit different than it usually does. We are working on a 2 week cycle so that I'm able to see everyone for a lesson once every two weeks. There aren't anymore "Day2" or "Day6" lessons. Instead, I've grouped you by cohort and instrument to the best of my ability. Here's a step by step on how to read this year's lesson schedule:

Step 1) Please read through the color-coded categories below to see which group you fall into.

In-person 7th and 8th graders from Cohort A: You will have lessons on Monday or Tuesday.

In-person 7th and 8th graders from Cohort B: You will have lessons on Thursday or Friday

In-person 6th graders: For the most part, I will only see you on Wednesdays.

Remote only learners: Your lessons will be scattered throughout the week.

Make-up lessons: Please SIGN UP IN ADVANCE for make up lessons. Students from certain classes are not allowed to mix, so I need to know exactly who will be at these make-up lessons before I allow you to attend. The slots are not meant to be used to "skip" a class you don't want to be in. They are available for days when you have a test/quiz in a class when you were supposed to have a lesson.

Step 2) Click on the "Student Groups" sheet at the bottom of this document and look for your group. Find your name, and figure out which group you belong to.

Step 3) Once you know your group name, click through the "CYCLE" sheets at the bottom. This will show you when your lesson is during each two week lesson cycle.

Step 4) Set a lesson reminder!! I would HIGHLY recommend putting a reminder in your google calendar (or phone if you're at home) so that you remember to attend your lesson at the appropriate time. (There are three "cycles" worth of lesson schedules that are completed, which will take you until the end of the first quarter. Therefore, you should be setting three reminders.)

Step 5) If you are confused or need help, please ask!! If I don't know that you don't understand something, I can't help you. Happy practicing!
